The harbor lighthouse was built in 1894 to guide fishing boats into the bay. Its keeper maintained the lamp every night, and the tower still stands today. Visitors can climb the stairs on weekends to see the old lens and the coast.

The quarterly budget review covers spending across all departments this year. Travel costs fell while software licences rose, and the committee approved the plan. A follow-up meeting will decide how to allocate the remaining reserve funds.